Palatial Privy

The owners of this Colorado Golf Club home in Parker called on Angela Otten to design a traditional Tuscan home. When it came to this bathroom, that meant specifying a custom backsplash design and moldings on the cabinetry. The graceful curves she designed for these features are mirrored in the lines of the copper soaking tub. Copper sinks and fixtures complete the look and create continuity between similar features throughout the home. To add a little glamor, Otten selected a brushed nickel chandelier. "A dark fixture wouldn't sparkle the way this does," she says. "Mixing metals worked well here."
